

ANDROSCOGGIN

Home Healthcare + Hospice

2017 Community Benefit REPORT

THE MORE THINGS CHANGE, THE MORE THEY STAY THE SAME.

This sentiment rang especially true for Androscoggin. Last year brought about many changes for our organization, including a new look, invigorated mission and vision, and a refreshed name: Androscoggin Home Healthcare and Hospice.

After months of research and collaboration with patients, partners, donors, and community members, we unveiled a refreshed Androscoggin brand and deepened commitment to be Maine's largest, independent, non-profit home healthcare and hospice provider delivering innovative, high quality, and deeply compassionate health care to all of those in need.

We know the focus should be on health – not illness. Androscoggin clinicians help people – from infancy to end of life – thrive and maximize their independence by providing in-home skilled medical attention and state-of-the-art solutions needed to achieve personal health goals.

We're an organization with heart. That's what sets us apart and why you choose to generously support us. We never turn away a qualified patient because of an inability to pay, and as a non-profit we rely heavily on the support of our many donors and community partners to meet this mission. Last year, we provided more than $1.1 million in free care to help nearly 600 patients in the nine counties we serve.

The purpose of this Community Benefit Report is to first and foremost thank you, our donors, for your generosity, as well as share with you what your support has helped us to achieve for patients in your community.

I truly believe we have some of the most compassionate and caring clinical staff you'll ever find, paired with incredibly selfless volunteers and strong, mission-driven leadership. This combined with your selfless support ensures Androscoggin is well poised for continued success.

Thanks to your support, we know there is a bright future ahead of us at Androscoggin Home Healthcare and Hospice. I look forward to seeing what we can accomplish together in the future!

ANDROSCOGGIN

Home Healthcare + Hospice

The new look of the Community Benefit Report marks the beginning of an exciting effort to position the organization for success and to further positively impact our reputation within the communities we serve.

This work began early in 2017 with market and focus group research involving staff, referral sources, patients, board and community members to determine public perception of our organization.

We received overwhelming confirmation that Androscoggin is a tremendously valuable resource to the community, often described as “capable, compassionate, kind, and trusted” according to the hundreds of people we spoke with. We used the research to guide our areas of strategic focus moving forward.

This effort of reintroducing our organization will help us to remain an important and relevant part of the fiber of the communities we serve.

We meet patients where they are in life, helping them to achieve their personal health goals. From infancy to end of life, we offer all of our care services to individuals regardless of ability to pay. It's healthcare as it should be, and we're proud to be leading the way.

MISSION

Androscoggin Home Healthcare and Hospice is an organization about living, dedicated to enhancing quality of life by providing innovative and compassionate medical care for all.

VISION

To be the leader in providing innovative, patient-centered care that ensures collaborative and coordinated service for the community's lifelong healthcare needs.

VALUES

Integrity: As an organization—from staff to volunteers, senior management to directors—we hold ourselves to the highest ethical standards, building trust and respect as we go.

Compassion: We recognize the importance of our patient-centered services and the sensitivity of each unique situation the individuals and families we serve are experiencing, always acting with discretion, empathy, and civility.

Excellence: We always give the best care that ultimately benefits the quality of life for the patients and families we serve.

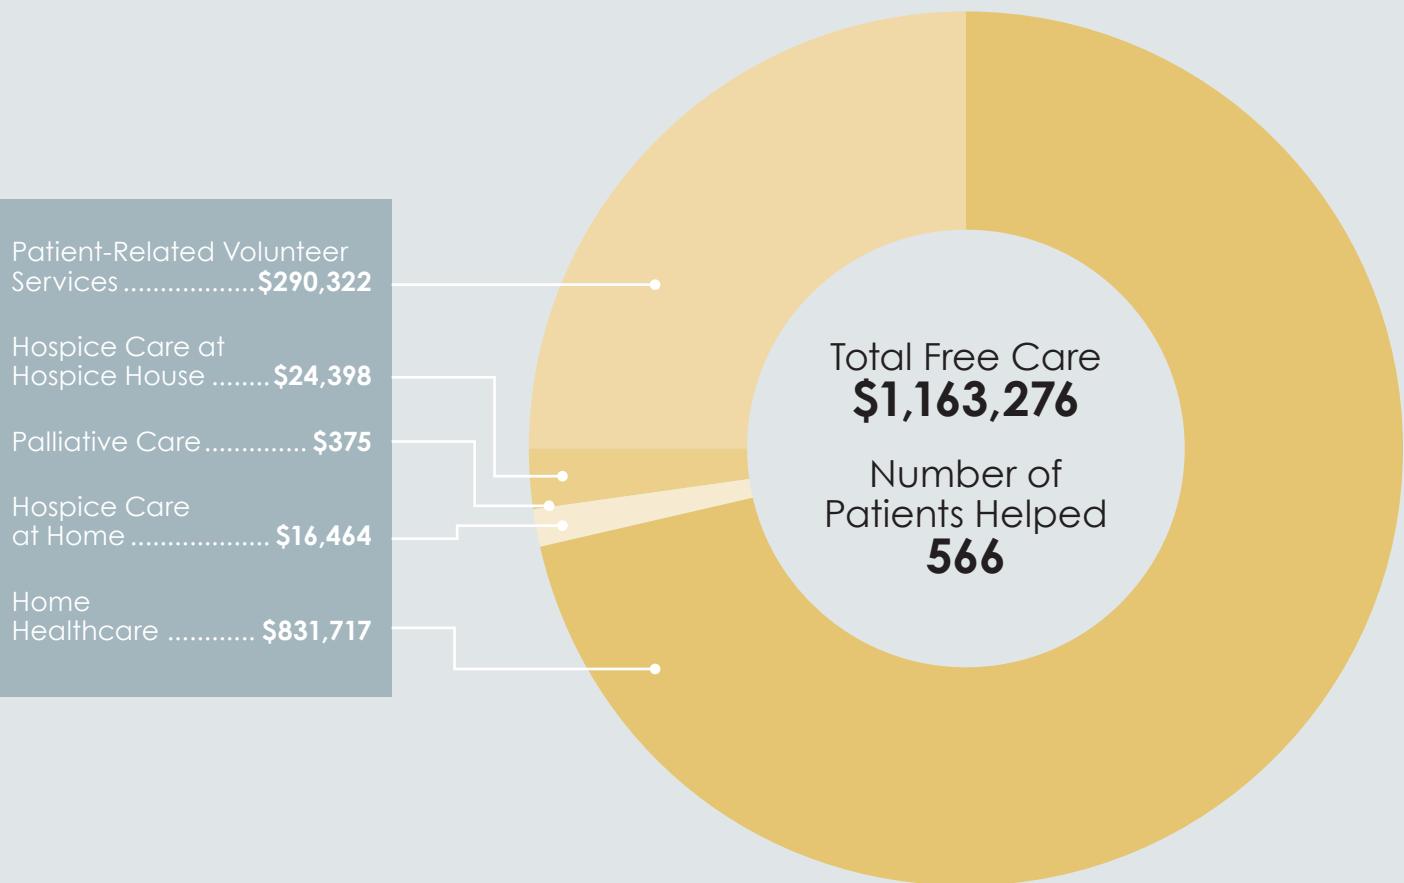

Innovation: We are leaders in identifying population health needs and implementing dynamic technologies that aid in the personalized health goals of the patients we serve and the evolution of the healthcare continuum.

Community: Through our commitment to staff, collaboration with healthcare partners, and support of local organizations and residents, we aim to build mutually beneficial and lasting relationships that strengthen our community and meet healthcare needs.

Your Support Helps Us Help So Many

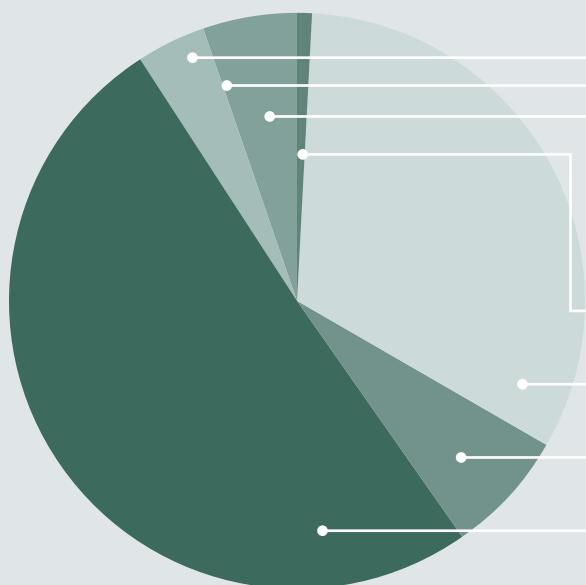

The generous and continued financial support we receive each year from members of our communities allows Androscoggin Home Healthcare and Hospice to continue to care for all who qualify for our services regardless of an inability to pay.

We are the only independent home healthcare and hospice organization in Maine that can make this claim, and every donation, no matter the size, makes a difference in the lives of so many patients we serve.

Addilyn's Story

When Jamie and Kyle Davis learned they were expecting their first child they went through the gamut of emotions all first-time parents do: excitement, nervousness, uncertainty, but mostly, joy. Both Jamie and Kyle are young and healthy and Jamie's pregnancy was normal by all accounts. "Plenty of morning sickness," recalls Jamie, "but nothing alarming."

On August 23, 2011, Jamie and Kyle welcomed their daughter Addilyn Sophia Davis into the world.

The doctors ruled Addilyn a healthy baby girl but Jamie knew something wasn't right. She calls it a "mother's unspeakable instinct." Her parents knew their child was in pain and suffering but without knowing what was wrong with their precious child, they were at a loss. It wasn't until six months later that Addilyn was diagnosed with Krabbe Disease, a form of Leukodystrophy. Having never heard of the disorder, Jamie and Kyle were thrown into a whirlwind of questions and fear. After asking what could be done to treat the illness, they received the answer no parent ever wants to hear: "You can't, it's fatal."

Krabbe Disease is an inherited genetic disorder that damages the protective coating of cells in the nervous system and the brain. Babies diagnosed with Krabbe Disease are generally given a life expectancy of two years or less. There is no cure for Krabbe Disease and treatments are focused on support and comfort. "I never thought my baby or my family would face such devastation on what was supposed to be a joyous occasion. Babies bring joy, not heartache and pain," Jamie recalled.

Despite such a bleak diagnosis, Jamie and Kyle devoted themselves to providing Addilyn with the very best life, however long it might be. They learned everything they could about her disease and how to keep her as comfortable as possible. Some days were good while others were much more difficult, but they always focused on Addilyn. They took family vacations, even a trip to Disney, and when Addilyn was two years old she became a big sister to baby sister Rilyn.

The Davis family learned about screenings that can be administered at birth to test for life-threatening diseases, like Krabbe, and treatments which, when administered early, can impact the outcome and quality of life for sick children. "I'm a huge advocate for Krabbe screening at birth. We're only left to wonder what early treatment could have meant for Addilyn and the difference it could've made in her life if we had been given the opportunity to test early," Jamie said. Addilyn and her family very quickly made it their mission to advocate for early screening. "Early detection is key and could result in life or death," shared Jamie.

Throughout the battle, Jamie documented the family's struggles, joys, and daily life with the community through a Facebook page: "Addilyn's Journey of Hope." Addilyn's hometown of New Sharon named her their "Hometown Hero." Her story continued to spread well beyond Maine. More than 100,000 social media followers, better known as "Team Addilyn," followed her and learned more about this rare and little-known disease.

Despite their greatest efforts, Addilyn's disease progressed. In late 2014, her condition deteriorated and the Davis family looked to Androscoggin Home Healthcare and Hospice to provide hospice care for Addilyn. On October 21, 2015, Addilyn Sophia Davis peacefully earned her angel wings while wrapped in her mother's arms.

"Addilyn brought us so much joy in her too short life. Her diagnosis brought fear, desperation, heartache, and devastation. However, Addilyn also taught us so many unexpected lessons. Her fierce, resilient little spirit showed me what it meant to be strong. I'm thankful for her teachings without a word spoken and her flawless example of strength, courage, bravery, and patience daily," Jamie said.

"Androscoggin made it possible for us to keep Addilyn out of the hospital and at home where she was most comfortable as her time here on earth came to a close," she said. "I will never be able to express my gratitude to the entire Androscoggin team, but especially to Addilyn's nurse, Patti. After calling my husband to let him know that Addilyn had passed, I called Patti. She was off duty and dealing with her own family emergency, but dropped everything to be here for our family. She offered so much comfort when really there was none. Words fall short of describing just how incredible Patti is and how much I genuinely appreciate the services, advice, and understanding she offered throughout the process of losing our precious girl. I will be forever grateful for Patti."

The Davis family continues to advocate for early screening for Krabbe and other diseases and encourages other families to invest in these potentially lifesaving tests. Krabbe screening is not offered as a regular birth screening in the state of Maine but Jamie says you can purchase your own through huntershope.org. Jamie and Kyle also work to raise money in Addilyn's memory to purchase these screening kits for those that cannot afford them. "There isn't a single child I would want to experience the pain that my daughter did. There isn't a single parent who I would wish to walk this painful path. I'm thankful that Addilyn's legacy lives on through the gift of giving hope and life to others."

Addilyn's family and friends participated in Androscoggin's annual Hospice House 5K & Remembrance Walk in honor and recognition of the care Patti and the hospice team provided. At over 30 team members, Team Addilyn was the largest fundraising team at the Farmington event.

"The support of the Davis family through their participation in our Hospice House 5K means so much to us," Ken Albert, Androscoggin President & CEO said. "We are honored to have been given the opportunity by Jamie and Kyle to meet Addilyn, help care for her, and assist in keeping her home with her family right until her final days. We feel deeply blessed to be able to provide this kind of service to wonderful people such as the Davis family."

"I thank Androscoggin and our nurses for helping me give Addilyn the best life I could," Jamie said.

Andy's Story

Andy D'Eramo is no stranger to hard work. In 1979, he began his career in public service as a Lewiston patrol officer. Over the years he worked his way through the ranks, becoming Deputy Police Chief in 1998 and graduating from the FBI Academy in Quantico, VA soon after. Andy retired from the force in 2002 after a long and tenured career serving the people of Lewiston and working tirelessly on causes important to him. From there, Andy took over as Director of Lewiston-Auburn 911, continuing to help the people of the twin cities when they need it the most. After leaving 911, Andy taught the Law Enforcement Program at Lewiston Regional Technical Center (LRTC) for eight years before he retired due to his illness.

In late 2016, Andy contracted Chronic Inflammatory Demyelinating Polyradiculoneuropathy (CIDP), a form of Guillain-Barre Syndrome. CIDP is a rare disorder in which the body's immune system attacks its own nervous system. There is no evidenced cause of CIDP but the disorder usually appears after a respiratory or digestive tract infection. The immune system fights the infection but inadvertently damages the body's nervous system, preventing the nerves from transmitting signals to the brain. The end result is tingling, weakness, numbness, or even paralysis.

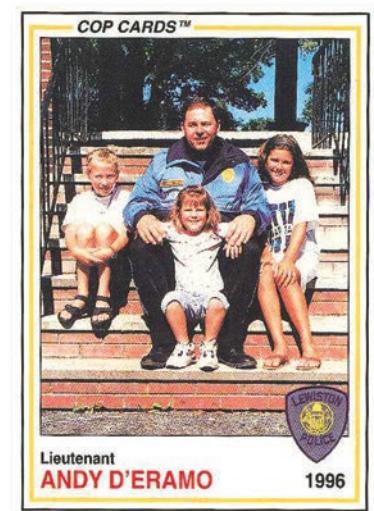

After being hospitalized and treated for paralysis, Andy returned home nearly immobile at 60 years old, uncertain of what his future might hold.

Matthew Vachon, an Androscoggin Physical Therapist who cared for Andy, said, "When we began care, he still wasn't able to get up the stairs into his house. He needed aggressive therapy and nursing nearly every day of the week."

"I had two of the best therapists that Androscoggin has," Andy said. "They sat down with me, listened to what my concerns were, and figured out a plan of action. It's not just showing up, knocking on a door, and checking off a box. They came to know me on a personal level. I can't measure what they did for me in such a short amount of time."

However, the credit truly belongs to Andy. With the guidance of his clinicians, and diligence, Andy graduated from a walker to crutches, and now only needs the assistance of one crutch to move around. He can climb the stairs and make his way around his home and the community he cares so much about. Independence of mobility is easily taken for granted by those of us without restriction; it's not until you lose the ability to walk that you realize just how important it is to you.

"I've been fortunate to have had Androscoggin Home Healthcare and Hospice services while I was in need."

The Last Anniversary

We're proud to provide our patients with the latest technologies to support healing and enhanced quality of life. The impact technology makes in their daily lives has proven to be remarkable and propels our mission to ensure patients are cared for in their home, where they want to be.

No piece of equipment embodies this sentiment better than our telehealth monitors that utilize state-of-the-art, remote technology combined with nursing assessments to manage the care of acute and chronic conditions. The devices are easy to use and monitor weight, blood pressure, oxygen levels, and blood sugars, all from the comfort of home. This information is automatically submitted to our nursing team for review and if medical intervention is needed, we contact the patient and their physician. In addition, our team can reach out via phone to connect with the patient and assess their needs.

Shane Levasseur, RN, heads Androscoggin's Telehealth Program and has spent his fair share of time on the phone making these calls to check in with our patients over the years. He recalls the story of one patient who requested a daily phone call from a nurse, yet when nursing staff reached out there was never an emergency or change in status. "She was a widow and in her late eighties" Shane said, "I think she just needed reassurance that we were looking out for her."

During one of their daily conversations the patient was upset because she was no longer able to maintain her old farmhouse after the death of her husband and had reluctantly agreed to leave her home to move in with her daughter. She reminisced that she had shared this home with her husband for nearly six decades years and their 60th anniversary was coming right up. It was the place where they had raised their children and shared so many memories. She expressed that she just wished to remain at home until her anniversary so she could celebrate what would have been such a joyous occasion. "I told her we would do our best to support her in reaching that goal," shared Shane.

Shortly after, the patient's daughter sent the following note of thanks:

I want to express my gratitude. It was extremely important to my mother that she celebrate her 60th wedding anniversary in the home that my parents shared for all of those years. Mom was able to get all dressed up and set two dinner plates, one for her and one for dad. She enjoyed her dinner by candlelight. I want to express how thankful we are that your program allowed Mom to spend their wedding anniversary at home one last time. She has agreed to move in with me so that I can help care for her. Last night was a special evening for her and you helped her achieve her greatest wish.

Hospice House Renovations

The expansion and renovations to the Hospice House are complete, and thanks to people like you, the entire cost was funded by donations made over the years to the Hospice House Fund.

The showpieces of the new construction are the drive-under canopy, covered walkway, and vestibule. This attractive and functional addition makes for a more comfortable arrival for patients, particularly during the harsh Maine winters.

Other parts of the completed project include an additional treatment room, making it easier for more outpatient services to be delivered. There's also more staff space which allows for more privacy. Additional storage space for supplies and equipment allows for easy accessibility for patient comfort and care.

Harriman and Associates designed the project and H.E. Callahan Construction, the original builder of the Hospice House, completed the work.

Thank you to all who have donated to the Hospice House Fund in the past. You were integral in ensuring the completion of this project.

Trinity Jubilee Center

The Androscoggin team recognizes the importance of giving and the benefit it provides to the community. This is evident every year when employees, volunteers and board members contribute to our annual fund at a rate far higher than national averages. This year, we began a corporate citizenship program called AndroGIVES. It's based on the core belief that if an organization is going to ask supporters like you for financial support, it must also be willing and able to lend a hand to others in need.

Androscoggin employees chose Trinity Jubilee Center, a downtown Lewiston non-profit that provides support to the area's neediest, as our community partner. The Center serves lunch to 100 individuals each day, provides medical support through a clinic, offers shelter to those who are homeless during the day, assists people in applying for and gaining a job, and operates a food pantry. The Center also provides diapers to families with babies and toddlers. In 2017, employees donated money to host and serve one lunch per month, covered Trinity's malpractice premiums, and collected more than 10,000 diapers, a truckload full of household items and boxes of personal hygiene products.

Learn more about our work with Trinity Jubilee Center on our Youtube channel.

“The best thing about Androscoggin’s support is that they asked us what we needed and listened. That is so uncommon.”

Service Lines

As Maine's largest independent non-profit home healthcare organization providing health, hospice and care management services since 1966, we know the focus should be on health—not illness.

That is why we help people of all ages thrive and maximize independence by providing the skilled medical care and state-of-the-art solutions needed to achieve personal health goals.
