Program for Grieving Children & Teens

The Program for Grieving Children and Teens teaches children, teens, and their supportive adult(s), who have experienced a death of a loved one, the skills needed to address and process loss and grief, while also teaching positive coping mechanisms—driving personal growth and success.

The Program is a 10-week support group, facilitated by Bereavement staff and volunteers. This support group breaks out into mini-groups by age to ensure activities and conversation are age-appropriate, supportive adults accompany the child. Each session provides a hands-on activity, with staff and volunteers guiding participants through conversation that allows them a safe space to share their grief, learn new positive ways to process their grief, while also reflecting on the cherished memories of their loved ones.
